

Committee on Foreign Affairs

January 6, 1964

AGENCY FOR INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

I. Aims, Objectives/Policy Formulation

1. Are the non-economic programs of AID - training of foreign nationals, community relations, etc. - shaped with a view to their political, psychological or propaganda impact?
2. Does AID participate in the formulation of objectives for these programs? How?
3. Do AID representatives sit on staff meetings preparatory to policy-planning in the State Department and USIA?
4. From where does the AID get its policy directives with respect to these programs -- State Department or USIA?
5. What type of advice does USIA provide to AID? How is this advice transmitted?

II. Policy Implementation

1. How does the State Department and the USIA check on the implementation of policy by AID? what happens when conflicts develop? Who settles them?
2. What type of political orientation does AID provide to its specialists sent abroad?
3. What type of political orientation is provided to non-governmental specialists sent abroad under AID auspices?
4. What type of orientation is provided to foreign trainees brought to the USA by AID?
 - a. What arrangements does AID have with governmental/private training agencies in this respect?
 - b. Who in AID is responsible for supervising these activities?
 - c. What follow-up exists with respect to foreign nationals trained in the USA under AID sponsorship?
 - d. How much does AID spend each year on training foreign nationals in the USA - breakdown should show number of trainees referred to each agency, average duration of training provided, cost to AID?

Committee on Foreign Affairs

-2-

5. What type of political orientation is provided to foreign trainees trained in third countries at the expense of AID?